The Meat Block is much more than just a business to the Schmidt family, it is a way of life. After nearly 20 years of experience in a meat market, Phil and his wife, Vicki, decided it was time to merge Phil's knowledge and passion with their family values.

They opened their doors in 2010 with only five employees, 1500 square feet of retail store, 1900 square feet of production space, and one smoke house. Over the years, The Meat Block has grown their space and abilities with several additions. In 2014, they purchased BBQ Pits n' Spits, which perfectly complemented the existing meat market.

In 2021, Phil's lifelong mentor, Tim Haen, approached The Meat Block with the chance to purchase Haen Meats and merge the two businesses. Blessed with this opportunity, Phil and Vicki, along with their business partners, Clyde and Hollie Weycker, were able to expand The Meat Block and their ability to serve the Greater Greenville and Kaukauna communities.

"We are thankful for the work and dedication of our staff and our family, as well as our loyal customers for making our continued growth possible.

Our business is built on faith, trust in God, and a passion to bring the very best in high-quality meats and food items to the family table. With everyone's hectic schedules, it's more important than ever to share a family meal together. We hope that our quality products will help in providing a meal that will be cherished by you and your family.

By combining fresh, high-quality meats and products with superior customer service, you're guaranteed an exceptional experience when you visit The Meat Block."
